The MCGAO Master's programme aims to train, through work-study programmes, high-level managers who have acquired managerial skills in steering and control. These managers will have the skills and knowledge to progress to team management and profit centre and/or service centre management positions.

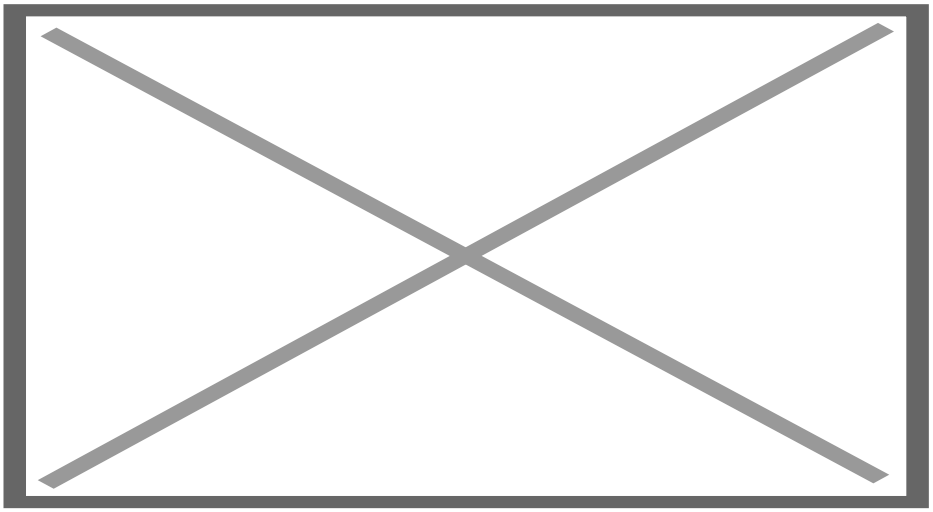

The training will enable them to develop managerial skills to carry out their duties, in particular:

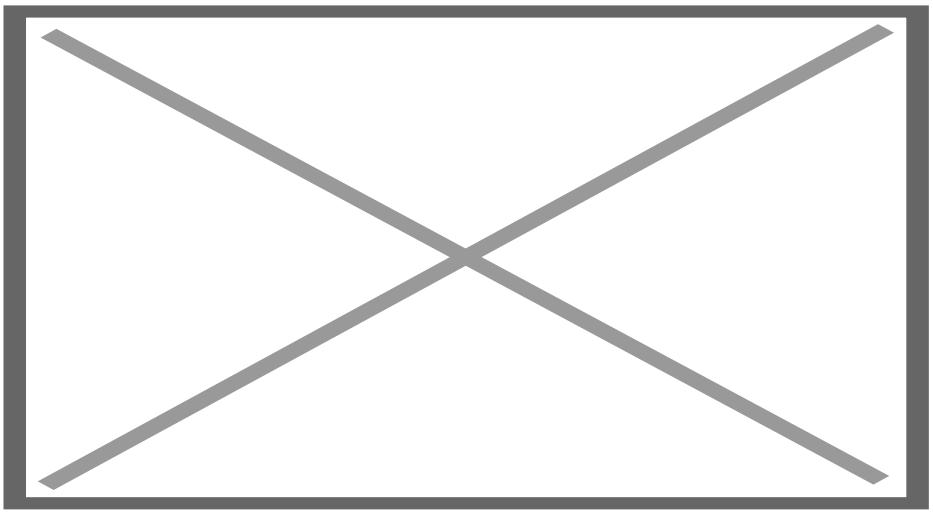

project management, implementing both organisational and budgetary procedures and the tools for measuring and analysing overall performance necessary to ensure their sustainability in a national and/or international context;

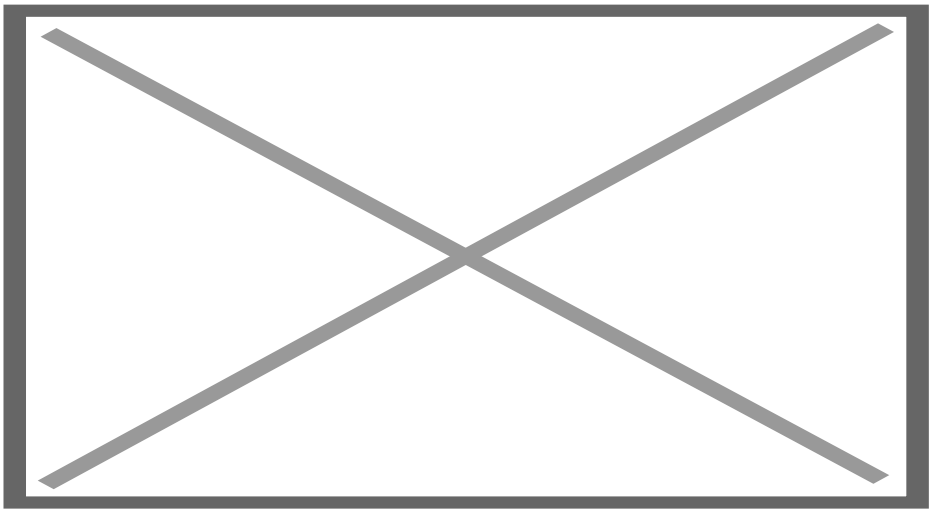

making proposals and assisting in decision-making for senior management and/or department or unit managers;

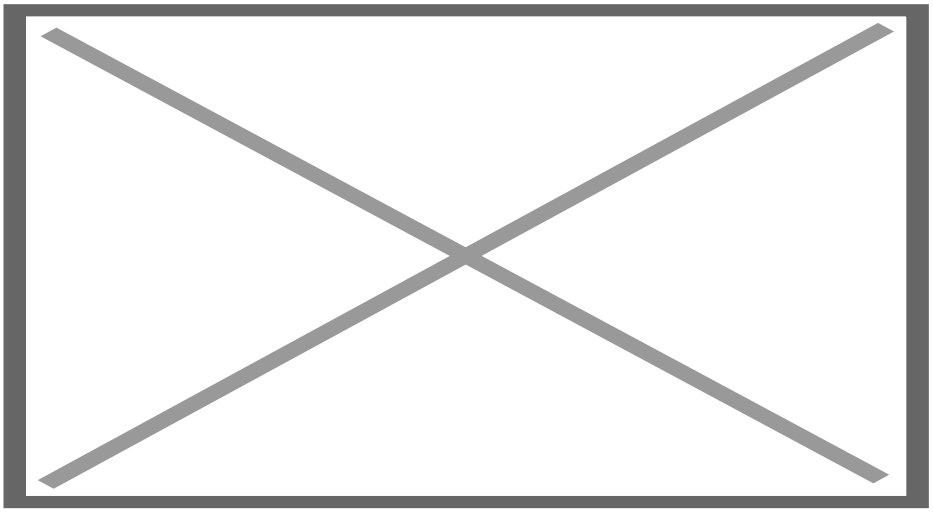

monitoring and advising the various departments of the company.

Target Audience and Entry Requirements

To be admitted to the programme, candidates must hold a bachelor's degree in Management Sciences or an equivalent three-year degree, preferably with a specialisation in management control, accounting, auditing or financial management. Changes of direction are exceptionally permitted if the candidate has demonstrated excellence in their original discipline. The Master's 1 programme at the University of Evry focuses on ensuring that candidates have good analytical and summarising skills in both French and English (B1 level recommended). The Master's 1 programme at the University of Versailles Saint-Quentin (ISM-IAE) recommends a Message score and a B1 level in English.
