M2 Achat International (AI)

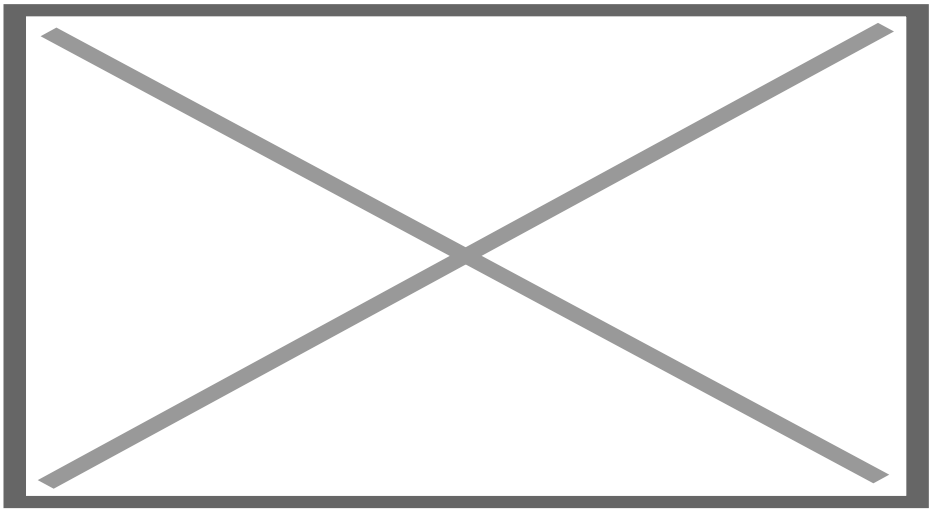

Master's degree
Specialisation Purchasing, Logistics and Production Management
Enrolment type
Formation en apprentissage
Language(s) of instruction
English
French

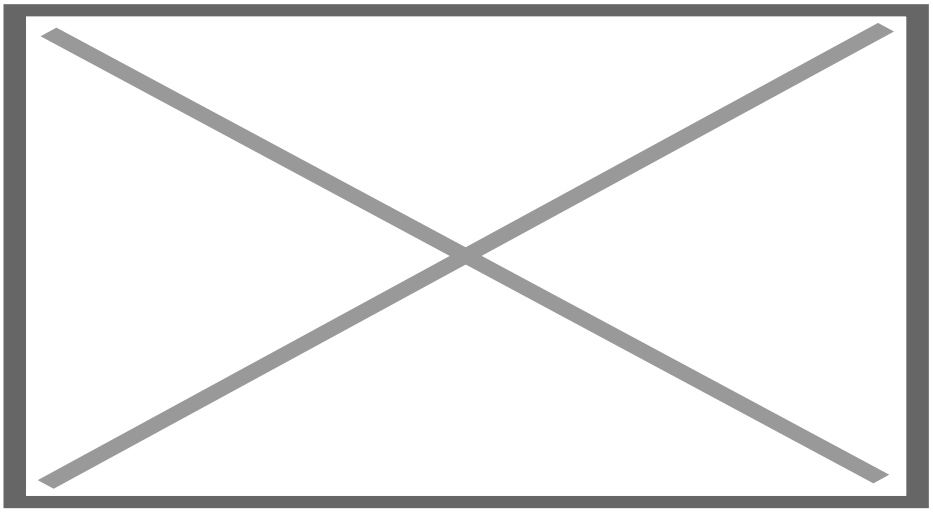

The GPLA Master's program trains future managers in purchasing, supply chain, and quality control, enabling them to thrive in an international and globalized environment.

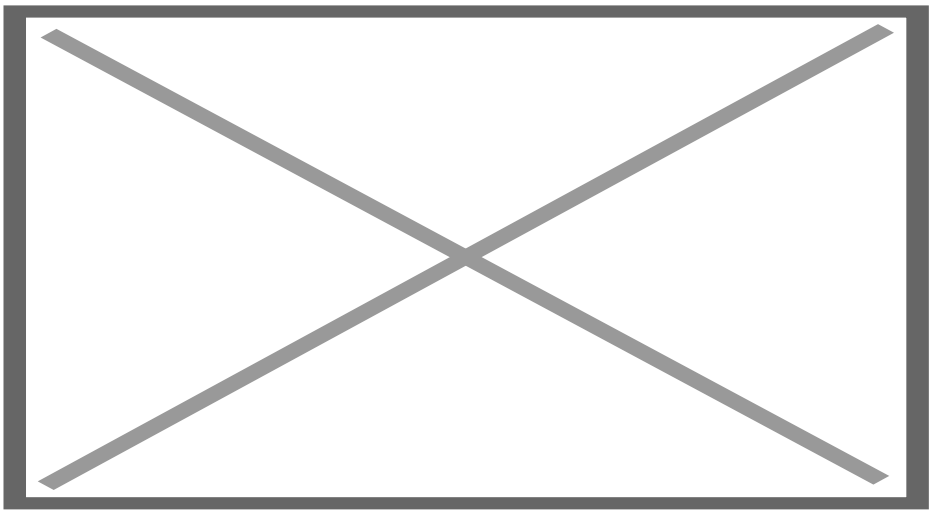

Offered as an apprenticeship, this program combines academic excellence and professional experience to train executives who are immediately operational and prepared to take on strategic responsibilities.

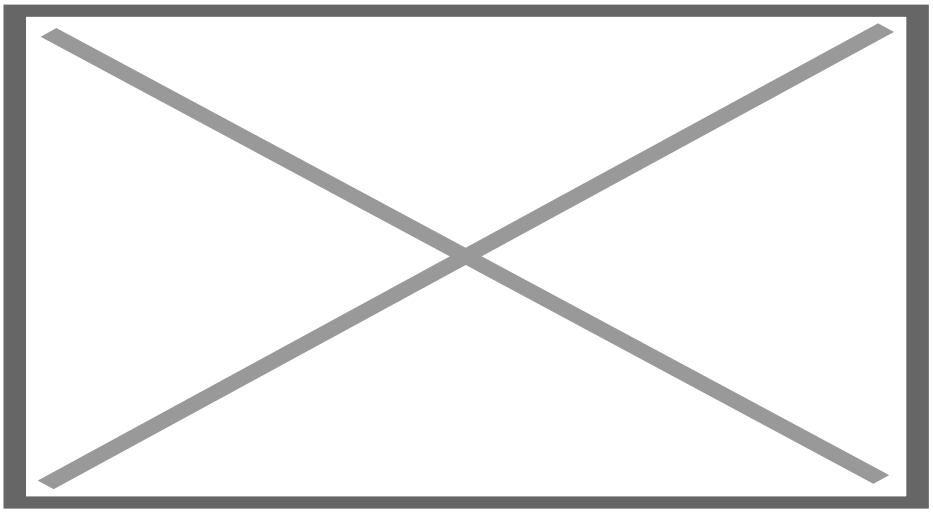

The GPLA Master's degree is a two-year program, built around a core curriculum in the first year, followed by a gradual specialization in purchasing.
The apprenticeship allows students to put their knowledge into practice in partner companies while developing their managerial skills and understanding of international issues.
