Techniques de commercialisation

BUT (University technology degree)
Language(s) of instruction
French

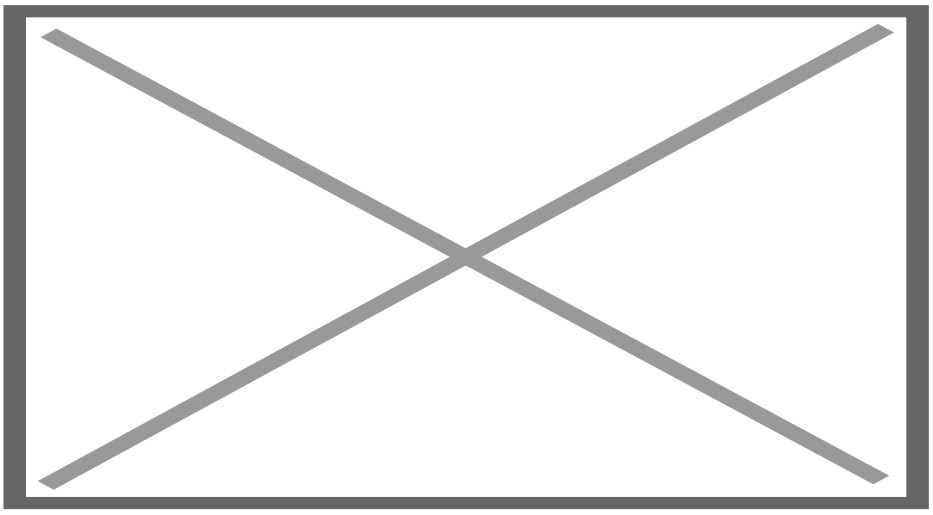

The Bachelor of Technology in Marketing Techniques (BUT CT) is a three-year technological program that combines theoretical knowledge and professional skills through a truly professional university program. The program focuses on understanding increasingly complex markets and constantly evolving marketing techniques.

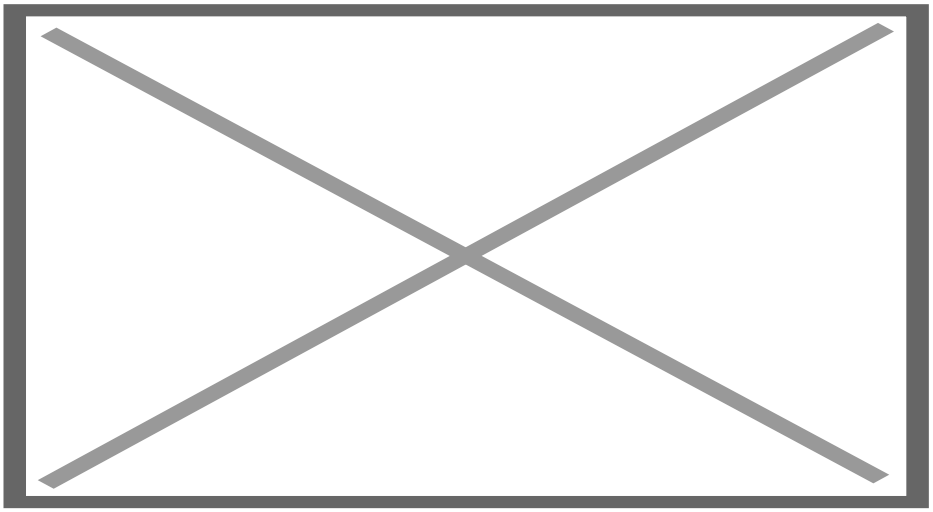

The BUT TC (Bachelor of Technology in Marketing Techniques) is a three-year degree (180 ECTS equivalent) combining academic training and professional development. It is organized over six semesters (three years), including lectures, tutorials, practical work, supervised projects, and an internship (22–26 weeks of the program). Work-study programs are available from the first year of the BUT.

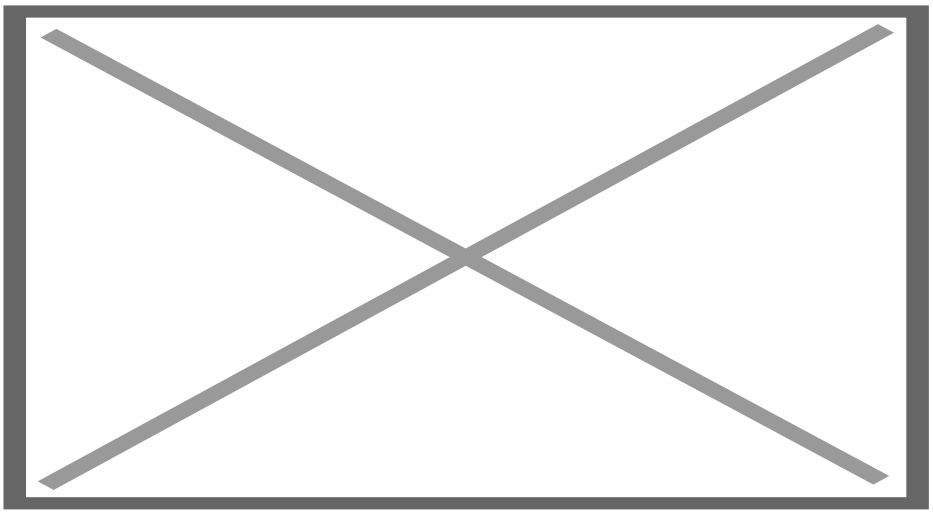

Paths from the second year (initial training and work-study programs):

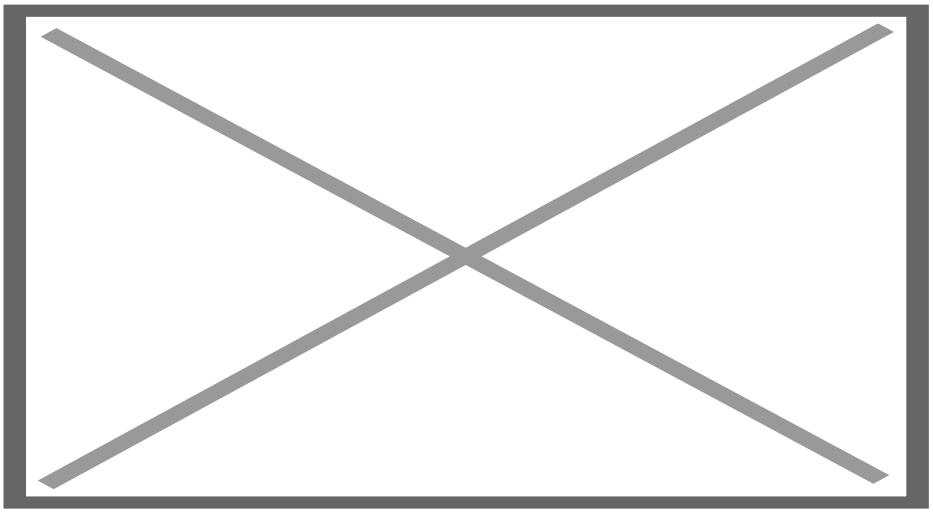

- Digital Marketing, e-business, and Entrepreneurship (MDEE)
- International Business: Purchasing and Sales (BI)
- Marketing and Point-of-Sale Management (MMPV)
- Business Development and Customer Relationship Management (BDMRC)
- Brand Strategy and Events (SME)
