

Call for proposal Meeting

LIVING
MACHINES AT WORK

université
PARIS-SACLAY

LivingMachines@Work (LM@W) is an interdisciplinary network of research teams within Paris-Saclay University dedicated to understand the structure and function of cellular machineries to innovate in health and biotechnology. LM@W is supported by 5 graduate schools (Life Sciences and Health, Biosphera, Computer and Digital Sciences, Mathematics and Physics).

LM@W launches the call for proposals Meeting to fund or co-fund the organisation of various scientific events at Paris-Saclay University, such as scientific meetings, technological workshops or student summer schools, corresponding to LM@W research axes.

Application deadlines:

18 November 2022

Application form, guidelines on this call and other information on LM@W:

<https://www.universite-paris-saclay.fr/livingmachines>

Submit applications to living-machines.lptms@universite-paris-saclay.fr