

LIVING AT UNIVERSITÉ PARIS-SACLAY

Arts and culture

• Cultural workshops

Led by professionals (directors, writers, musicians, photographers, etc.) these workshops offer the chance to try out all sorts of artistic and cultural activities and to develop skills (written and oral expression, creativity, etc.). Certain workshops qualify for bonus points or ECTS credits as an introduction Teaching Unit (TU).

• Events

Events such as concerts, festivals, theatre performances, etc. can be enjoyed throughout the year on the University's various sites.

If you sign up for the culture newsletter, you will not miss any events!

Here, you can also find special offers for concerts and exhibitions in partner venues and cultural centres.

Science and society

Université Paris-Saclay offers a number of initiatives which promote meetings and interaction between the scientific community and society as a whole.

THE DIAGONALE PARIS-SACLAY

The Diagonale Paris-Saclay supports and offers advice for any science and community initiatives led by the student community, lecturers, researchers and administrative and technical staff at Université Paris-Saclay. It handles the coordination between these players and also with partners in the region (local authorities, technical and industrial scientific culture organisations, associations, etc.).

la-diagonale@universite-paris-saclay.fr

Each year, the University takes part in European Heritage Days and the Festival of Science. It also takes part in several other festivals (Ciné Fac Sceaux at the Jean Monnet Faculty, the robotics festival with IUT Cachan, etc.).

'MISS' (INTRODUCTION TO AND AWARENESS OF SCIENCE CENTRE)

MISS is a fun and challenging space where students (from CE2 to 3e), their teachers and young people can experiment together. Here, pupils learn about scientific and experimental approaches, as well as about the world of research during a scientific workshop (on a theme).

Are you starting the first year of your degree? Become a trainee teacher as part of the 'MISS Small Workshops' (offered in some study courses).

WHERE ART AND SCIENCE MEET

Université Paris-Saclay supports initiatives which promote the presence of artists on campus and the cross-over between art and science. The Scène de Recherche at ENS Paris-Saclay is a place of artistic experimentation and research-creation which brings together the arts, sciences and society.

Further information about the Scène de recherche: www.ens-paris-saclay.fr/culture/scene-de-recherche

EXPLORATION OF ARTISTIC, SCIENTIFIC AND ARCHITECTURAL HERITAGE

Université Paris-Saclay has many objects, living organisms and collections which are part of its scientific heritage and provide a better understanding of its history and the origins of the research currently in progress. These collections can be explored through exhibitions and fun activities, such as an escape game. The campus also houses iconic buildings and works of art.

More information is available on the 'heritage' page www.universite-paris-saclay.fr/patrimoine-scientifique

Sport

Whether you are a student or a member of staff at Université Paris-Saclay, the University Department of Physical and Sports Activities is your perfect sports partner. Here, you can relax, maintain yourself physically and mentally, challenge yourself and enjoy the opportunity to make new friends.

At the start of the academic year, and at a level which suits you, come and participate in one or more of the 82 sports on offer.

At the start of the school year, and depending on your level, come and practice one or more of the 82 sports programmed. The start of the 2022-2023 school year is marked by the delivery of the new complex.

Moulon university sports center (Gif-sur-Yvette). This equipment is composed of: 3 gymnasiums, 1 gymnasium on the apparatus, 1 climbing area, 4 indoor courts tennis, 1 dance studio, 1 weights room, 4 synthetic pitches and 1 complex of athletics. In addition to the Institute of Entrepreneurship and Innovation (IEI) of Fontenay-aux-Roses, 3 rooms dedicated to artistic activities, well-being and muscle building, of combat, will be opened.

Thanks to the Contribution de Vie Étudiante et de Campus (CVEC), the SUAPS invites you to practice for free on two slots/week, year-round. For staff, the Membership fee remains unchanged: €40 per year for 2 slots. Beyond that, each slot will be charged 10€/year. A specific bodybuilding card is set up (40 € per year for students, and €60 for staff). This card allows you unlimited practice, supervised by the managers of our four open rooms 100 hours per week including weekends.

Another novelty: Opening of University Sports Performance Poles in Badminton (Gif-sur-Yvette), Futsal and Athletics (Évry), which allow you to start or pursue a sporting project thanks to an offer of additional time slots, a specialized supervision and modern structures. Apply on the sports portal because the number of places is limited. All procedures are done online: registration, possible payment and downloading of the membership card on smartphone.

Wherever you are, discover our course offers on the sports portal and pay from home you. The sports portal extends to the Grandes Ecoles and associated member universities of the University.

Please note: The SUAPS card is valid for one academic year, it is non-refundable.

Student Centre

THE PARIS-SACLAY CENTRE FOR STUDENTS (MAPS)

The Paris-Saclay Centre for Students (MAPS) is a centre for students funded by the Île-de-France region and located on the Bures-Orsay-Gif campus.

This beautiful building houses facilities mainly dedicated to official student associations, including a 'sound' centre with a rehearsal studio, two recording studios and a set-up room, as well as reception and activity rooms open to all (multi-purpose room, cafeteria, etc.). As well as the facilities and student associations, students can also enjoy work and relaxation areas here.

Students can also reserve rooms whether they belong to an association or not to work in groups on their own student community projects.

The student associations located in MaPS manage the building and coordinate the booking of rooms and events within it. This building encapsulates Université Paris-Saclay's policy on student life, which is based on developing the quality of student life, affiliation and empowerment through accountability, encouraging the emergence of talent, as well as engagement in campus life and academic success.

Community life

The two words which best describe community life at Université Paris-Saclay are rich and eclectic!

Université Paris-Saclay is very active, with over 600 student associations, including sports associations, arts associations, student offices, cultural associations, humanitarian associations and camera clubs, etc. Being part of an association is a chance to meet other students and to participate in the life of the University. There are so many ways to open up to the outside world and to feel part of the community.

You can find the list of student associations at Université Paris-Saclay and its member universities on the website: www.universite-paris-saclay.fr, Campus life section > Student associations.

The FSDIE (Fund for Solidarity and Development of Student Initiatives) and the Call for Campus Community Life Projects provide financial support for student association projects.

Communication services at the University, member universities, partner institutions and associate institutions are effective intermediaries for publicising events at Paris-Saclay - please get in contact.

Catering

Several types of food and drink outlets are available to students on the various campuses.

The 'Centre Régional des Œuvres Universitaires et Scolaires' - CROUS - are key partners of Université Paris-Saclay and provide the CROUS food and drink outlets which are open to all.

resto U gives you the opportunity to enjoy a balanced meal at a low cost. You can choose a dish accompanied by 3 'options' of your choice, including starters, cheese, dairy products or fruit. The choice is extensive and there is no shortage of combinations! The resto Us are managed by CROUS.

The cafeterias may be managed by CROUS or by private companies. As result, prices may vary between cafeterias. However, the prices on campus overall are reasonable and much less than those off campus. For example, a coffee costs on average €0.70.

Accommodation

This is one of the most important steps every year for students arriving at one of the University's campuses, which are mainly located south of Paris. Depending on the university department, partner institution or associate member university to which you are affiliated, your course may be taking place at Kremlin-Bicêtre, Sceaux, Châtenay-Malabry, Orsay, Bures, Cachan, Évry, Versailles, Saint-Quentin or Vélizy-Villacoublay. All these locations are on RER lines B, C or D, and about 30 to 50 minutes from Paris.

Finding accommodation close to your place of study is a major factor in student success, but it can quickly turn out to be a headache, particularly in the Ile-de-France region where the housing problem is acute and prices are higher than elsewhere.

To help you with the process, the Student Life and Equal Opportunities Department has created an online accommodation guide for students which can be downloaded or viewed at all of the University's student life reception points. This guide includes practical information, such as the list of financial aid available, how to put together a file once you have found accommodation, how to avoid the main scams, where to find alternatives to CROUS student accommodation (very much

Protective measures

every gesture counts.

Cough or sneeze into your elbow or soap and water, or failing that with a sanitizer

Wash hands regularly with soap and water, or by default, with a hydro-alcoholic solution

Blow your nose into a disposable tissue

Avoid touching your face

In addition to these measures, wear a mask when the distance of one metre cannot be respected

Keep at least one metre away from others

Greet people without shaking hands and do not embrace

Ventilate each room regularly

Disability and studies

Université Paris-Saclay is committed to enabling students with disabilities (ESH) to access all their courses

WHAT IS THE PROCEDURE?

If you feel that you need to have your studies and/or exams modified ('Plan d'Accompagnement de l'Etudiant Handicapé' - PAEH), you must be registered at Université Paris-Saclay and contact the disability department:

1. Make an appointment with a doctor from the University's student preventive medicine service (SUMPPS) who will assess, on the basis of your medical file, any modifications required during an interview. The doctor will then draw up a modification plan which will be given to you. These modifications can be re-evaluated and modified as required throughout the year.

2. Send your modification plan to your department's disability and studies service. The disability advisor will then inform the educational team and all necessary measures will be put in place

EXAMPLES OF PROPOSED MEASURES FOR PERMANENT OR TEMPORARY DISABILITY

- Arrangements for exams: additional time, examination secretariat, provision of specific materials, separate room, etc.
- Course arrangements: note-taking, accessibility of premises, educational support, tutoring, adaptation of course materials, adaptation of timetables or the curriculum, etc.

The disability services support students in their studies, in their participation in student life and in their professional integration.

The University regularly organises initiatives to raise awareness of disability issues within the university community.
