Hybrid internship mobility:

- This is possible. It must combine a period of teleworking and a period of at least one month at the internship site. Only physical mobility will be funded.

Amount of financial assistance:

- The fixed daily financial aid is €22 (€660 for a 30-day month). it is supplemented by a transport allowance calculated according to the internship location. it cannot exceed six months.
- The scholarship will be paid to the recipients in full after the receipt and processing of the documents confirming their arrival in their host structure.
- The scholarship can be combined with other funding (Crous scholarship, Erasmus+ scholarship, etc.) provided that the amount received does not exceed €600 per month. It cannot be combined with the AMIE that may be paid by Université Paris-Saclay (Ile-de-France mobility scholarship, MESRI AMI scholarship, mobility scholarship from Université's own funds). For more details, contact the International Relations Department of your institution or component institution.
- For hybrid mobility, only the period of the internship spent abroad will be financed.

Changing the internship location will result in the cancellation of the scholarship.

Extending the internship does not result in an increase in the initial scholarship amount. If the total duration of the internship period is reduced (early return), the student in question must reimburse the overpayment to Université Paris-Saclay.

Soft Mobility Bonus:

Université Paris-Saclay is fully committed to sustainable development. If you choose to travel by an eco-responsible means of transport such as the bus or train, Université Paris-Saclay will pay you a bonus of €100 for the outward journey and €100 for the return journey (upon presentation of your ticket).
