An exceptional research environment

Strengthened by its members and laboratories, research at Université Paris-Saclay is part of a vibrant network focused on major fields, including basic research, applied sciences and industrial relevance.

A collective and regional vision

UNIVERSITÉ PARIS-SACLAY IS SUPPORTED BY:

- the very strong presence of French national research organisations
- the accessibility to numerous state-of-the-art scientific facilities and platforms
- The high concentration of industrial research and development centres in the area

The challenge facing the university consists in building a collective research policy, combining long-term support for basic research and the ability to respond to societal challenges through the use of multidisciplinary approaches. In addition, the university shares both a territory and a common vision with the R&D centres of large French and international industrial groups, SMEs and a very strong network of incubators, start-ups and fablabs. Paris-Saclay has been a research ecosystem for over 60 years, a flagship project for France and one of the eight most prominent innovation clusters in the world.

Six goals for research at Université Paris-Saclay

1. Reinforce existing disciplinary strengths
2. Promote a cross-disciplinary approach between all teams at Université Paris-Saclay
3. Carry out basic research over a broad spectrum
4. Foster the emergence of new topics
5. Facilitate and support application developments resulting from research
6. Ensure exposure and recognition among peers and society

Three key areas of research and a focus on societal challenges

Université Paris-Saclay has a long tradition of research in three key areas:

- Science and engineering
- Life sciences
- Social sciences and humanities

Covering a broad range of disciplines strongly backed by research, the university works at the forefront of science, supported by the most effective methods and equipment, interacting with international networks and providing young researchers with the best possible education.

In light of the key challenges facing the world in the decades to come, the university must be able to base policies on research and its developments and innovations. As a result, research at Université Paris-Saclay strives to meet eight key societal challenges:

RESEARCH LABORATORIES

Most of the 275 laboratories at Université Paris-Saclay involve one or more of the entities of Université Paris-Saclay (constituent faculties and institutes, component institutions, associate institutions, research organisations). The entities involved in a laboratory set out its scientific orientation, appoint its director and provide it with premises and human resources (academics, engineers and technicians, administrative staff) as well as financial resources.

SCIENTIFIC AND TECHNOLOGICAL SKILLS AND EXPERTISE

The Plug in labs portal of Université Paris-Saclay lists the skills, expertise and equipment of research laboratories and technology platforms for all areas of research at Université Paris-Saclay.

Planning your departure

DEVELOPING YOUR RESEARCH PROJECT

In order to plan for a research stay in a laboratory at Université Paris-Saclay, you must first contact the researchers in the laboratory you are interested in to develop your research project.

TERMS AND PROCEDURES OF A HOST LABORATORY

It is absolutely essential that, before your departure, you contact the director and the administrator of your host laboratory so they know your date of arrival and so that they can explain to you the practical arrangements and procedures you need to follow to join the laboratory. These can change from one laboratory to the next.

Upon arrival

The scientific manager of your research project, as well as the lab director and administrator, will help you settle in the lab, as well as with the administrative procedures.

Each lab has internal regulations, which specify:

- the organisation and management of the laboratory
- rules regarding use of the premises and equipment
- rules regarding health and safety at work
- rules regarding the security of information and information systems, and the protection of personal data
- protection measures covering the results of the lab research and its scientific and technical potential

At the end of your stay

You must respect the rules set out by the lab in relation to loan of equipment, samples and data collected, etc.

At the end of your stay, you must continue to respect the rules concerning the use of results from your research carried out within the lab.

PhD studies

A doctoral degree (PhD) is training through and for research, over a period of three years, enabling students to develop high-level skills and knowledge. It is recognised with the award of a national doctoral degree, which confers the status of doctor (PhD) – the most internationally-recognised university qualification.

A PhD at Université Paris-Saclay

- Research work is led in a research unit, also known as a lab, under the management of a PhD supervisor and possibly a co-supervisor and co-advisors.
- Each PhD supervisor is a member of a Doctoral School (<https://www.universite-paris-saclay.fr/ecoles-doctorales>), which provides doctoral training in close connection with labs and research teams. The Doctoral Schools are connected to one or more Graduate School(s) depending on their research area.
- The Maison du Doctorat (Doctoral College) implements cross-disciplinary measures to support Doctoral College students and supervisors: alongside their research activity, PhD students benefit from complementary scientific and cross-disciplinary training to develop specific skills during their PhD: PhD training courses
- At the end of their research, PhD students write a PhD thesis and defend their work to a panel in order to obtain their doctoral degree.

Université Paris-Saclay has about 4,500 PhD students, more than 30% of whom are of foreign nationality, and nearly 1,000 PhD students graduate per year. Over 90% PhD graduates from Université Paris-Saclay are employed three years after their thesis, and more than half are in permanent employment. They are equally divided between the public and private sectors.

BECOMING A PHD GRADUATE

You must hold a Master's degree, or a degree of a similar standard, to be able to complete a PhD.

All details are available on the Université Paris-Saclay website: <https://www.universite-paris-saclay.fr/en/research/doctorate/registration-and-re-registration>

Research subjects are published by PhD supervisors and can be jointly developed with them. They are published on different websites - the university website as well as:

<https://www.adum.fr/psaclay/pt>

Students can also find out about opportunities via the following link: <https://doctorat.campusfrance.org/phd/offers>

As far as funding options are concerned, you can find out what is available via the website:

<https://www.universite-paris-saclay.fr/en/admission/doctorate-and-habilitation-supervise-research-hdr-french>

Or on the following websites:

<http://financements.andes.asso.fr/> and on the Campus France website: CampusBourses - v1.3.6 \(campusfrance.org\)

We strongly encourage you to contact your future PhD supervisor as early as possible in order to discuss your research project, but also to find out about your new working environment. You can also contact current PhD students and / or former PhD students from the lab you are going to join so they can provide you with useful information.

DOCTORAL STUDENT STATUS

• Student status

Upon registration, you will receive a student card, which gives access to University libraries and to CROUS facilities (Regional Centres for University and School Institutions), as well as a certificate of attendance at a higher education institution.

• Depending on your funding, employee status or scholarship holder

Your employer will draw up an employment contract upon your arrival.

You will benefit from the same academic advantages as PhD students with student status. For scholarship holders, a research residence agreement will be drawn up if the funding is equal to the minimum authorised threshold of €1,690 net per month for obtaining a researcher talent passport visa prior to arrival. (Please see the 'visa and residence permits' section) All PhD students must be funded for the entirety of their thesis work. The funding may come from different places and the thesis advisor will work with students to find this funding.

• Main sources of funding:

- Doctoral contracts, after completing competitive exams at Doctoral Schools, or funding from universities or research institutes
- Private sector PhD contracts from institutes or companies, for example in the framework of a CIFRE agreement (Convention industrielle de formation par la recherche), a thesis in partnership with a private company which employs the PhD student and an academic host team.
- The PhD student is employed by a company that authorises him or her to spend between 50 and 100% of their time on their research project (Registration in FTLV, lifelong learning).
- Scholarships from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs or from foreign institutions (scholarship status does not lead to a contract of employment, but a research residence agreement can be established).

• International joint supervision:

International joint supervision is an international exchange system which allows a PhD student enrolled in two institutions (Université Paris-Saclay and an institution abroad) to obtain a PhD from the two partner countries following a single defence. The PhD student must spend a minimum of 12 months in each institution. The joint supervision requires a joint-supervision agreement to be set up between the two institutions which outlines the administrative, academic and financial arrangements. This arrangement allows for the mutual recognition of the activity carried out in both institutions by the two research teams.

Accommodation

The campuses of Université Paris-Saclay are mainly located south of Paris. Depending on your university department, component institution or associate institution your course may take place at Kremlin-Bicêtre, Sceaux, Orsay, Bures, Cachan, Évry, Versailles, Saint-Quentin-en-Yvelines or Vélizy-Villacoublay.

All these locations are on RER lines B, C or D, and about 30 to 50 minutes from Paris. Find out in advance where your course will take place and/or the location of your laboratory, as well as nearby transport options. See the 'Transportation' section.

Planning your departure

IMPORTANT

Before you arrive in France, make sure you look for accommodation, even if it is just temporary.

Contact the appropriate department of your institution (see Université Paris-Saclay accommodation page) or check with your laboratory to see what accommodation is available.)

Check out the Student accommodation map and the Université Paris-Saclay student accommodation map.

LOOK OUT

Fake advertisements, exorbitant rents, listing agencies, fees to be paid in advance, etc. Housing scams are a reality.

Be wary of low rents in Paris, you should expect to pay 400 euros for a room in a CROUS student residence and at least 800 euros for a studio in a private residence.

Never send money online without signing a rental agreement and dealing directly with an organisation.

Upon arrival

HAVING A GUARANTOR & PLANNING FOR A SECURITY DEPOSIT

It is compulsory to have a guarantor to rent a flat in France. A guarantor is a person who will provide a financial guarantee for you, i.e. who undertakes to pay your rent if you can no longer afford to do so. If you do not have a guarantor, there are other options available:

- Visale, the 'Caution Locative Étudiante' (Student Rental Deposit) is a free state guarantee which allows students between 18 and 30 years of age without personal guarantors to access housing more easily.

Some landlords may ask you to pay a security deposit when you sign the lease. This sum corresponds to at least one month's rent excluding charges. It allows the landlord to cover any abnormal damage found during the inventory of fixtures on departure. The security deposit should be refunded to you in full or in part within 2 months of your departure.

- The LOCA-PASS advance payment, is a loan of up to €1,200 at 0% interest to finance the security deposit. It must be repaid within a maximum of 25 months. (Please note: a loan commits you. Check your ability to repay before committing yourself)

- If you are not eligible for VISALE or the owner of your accommodation does not recognise it, you can make use of Garant Me.

AVAILABLE ACCOMMODATION

Find out what is available to students at Université Paris-Saclay on the CASA platform:

<https://casa.universite-paris-saclay.fr/fr/>

For accommodation in university halls of residence, contact your institution to find out about your eligibility and the procedure to follow.

Several options are available in the private sector:

- Renting via an estate agent. You can look at the Se Loger websites, or Lodgis for Paris.
- Rent via dedicated student accommodation platforms: Studapart, Lokaviz

For cheaper rents, you could consider:

- Shared accommodation – look at the appartager, roomlala, immojeune or La carte des colocs sites.
- Accommodation in exchange for a service or intergenerational accommodation: ensemble2générations, cohomly and le Pari Solidaire

Contact one of the following partner associations to get help in finding accommodation:

- Science Accueil – Centre Euraxess specialises in welcoming scientists to Paris-Saclay.
- Héberjeunes - Student accommodation association

In order to move in to your accommodation, you will need to present a certificate of housing insurance. See the 'Insurance' section

FINANCIAL SUPPORT FOR ACCOMMODATION

Depending on your situation, you may be able to benefit from financial support for your accommodation:

- The APL, 'Aide Personnalisée au Logement' (Personal Housing Assistance) is based on family income and the amount of your rent. Contact the Caisse d'Allocations Familiales (Family Allowance Office) in your département of residence for more information: <http://www.caf.fr>
- The ALS, 'Allocation Logement à caractère Social' (Social Housing Allowance), based on your income.
- The ALF, 'Allocation de logement familiale' (Family Housing Allowance), based on your family situation.

RESIDENCE TAX

If you are resident in France on 1 January, you are taxable at the address you live at on that date and may be subject to residence tax. See the 'Tax' section

At the end of your stay

LEAVING YOUR ACCOMMODATION

You must warn your landlord of your departure within the defined period of notice. The period of notice is of one month for furnished rented accommodation and three months for unfurnished rented accommodation. A lot of accommodation in the Paris region is located in areas of high demand, in which case the notice period is one month.

Before leaving your accommodation, you will have to carry out an inventory of fixtures. If this corresponds to the inventory of fixtures made when you moved in, the landlord will pay you back your security deposit within a maximum of two months.

For further information on the steps to follow, look at the public service website

Healthcare

At the start of the academic year, we encourage you to take out private health insurance which will cover you for the first few months until you join the French social security system.

Once you have arrived and completed your enrolment at Université Paris-Saclay, you can apply for social security.

Before departure / Upon arrival

APPLYING FOR HEALTH INSURANCE

• You have an employment contract in France

PhD students and researchers holding a 'Passeport-Talent Chercheur' or 'Scientifique-Chercheur' visa must apply for health insurance with the CPAM in Paris (Caisse Primaire d'Assurance Maladie - national healthcare agency) in order to receive a social security number.

You should send Form S1106 'demande d'ouverture des droits à l'assurance maladie' (application for entitlement to health insurance) and supporting documents to the following address:

Assurance Maladie
SRI/Talents
75948 PARIS Cedex 19

NB: Remember to bring your birth certificate with you translated into French by a sworn translator as it will be required for registration.

Contact the Human Resources office:

- In some cases, the employer will take care of the application.
- If you are accompanied by your spouse and/or children, depending on their situation, they can also be covered by your healthcare insurance.

You are hosted within the framework of a research residence agreement.

You are a researcher or PhD student with a grant not registered with a higher education institution in France

- Your stay is 6 months or more: you are entitled to universal health insurance (PUMA) for residency with a qualifying period of 6 months

You must complete form S1106 and return it to the health insurance office in your place of residence together with your hosting agreement.

Please note: you must take out private health insurance to cover the first three months of your stay,

- Your stay is less than 6 months: you must take out private health insurance to cover the whole period of your stay.

You are a PhD student with a grant registered with a higher education institution in France:

- You are immediately entitled to universal health insurance (Puma), without any qualifying period, provided that you are legally resident

You must complete form S1106 and return it to the health insurance office in your place of residence together with your hosting agreement.

In all cases, if you wish to include your children who are minors and present on French territory on your account, you must complete and return form S3705 to the health insurance office in your place of residence.

Depending on your nationality, you can view information on how to apply for PUMA and the supporting documents to be provided via the dedicated website:

<https://www.ameli.fr/assure/droits-demarches/principes/protection-universelle-maladie>

You are a PhD student with student status You do not have an employment contract in France

• Non-salaried PhD students with student status are considered to be students by the CPAM. If you are registering for the first time at a French higher education institution, you can apply for healthcare insurance directly online at www.etudiant-etranger.ameli.fr

• You are a European student: before you arrive in France, you must apply for a European Health Insurance Card from your insurer in your home country.

If you are coming to study for a period of less than 3 months, you should be covered by your home country health insurance or by private insurance.

REIMBURSEMENT OF MEDICAL EXPENSES

The CPAM will give you a provisional social security number. This entitles you to health insurance but you will have to pay medical fees in advance which will be subsequently reimbursed based on your medical records.

You will then be given a permanent social security number and a Carte Vitale (insurance card). You should then:

• Nominate an attending practitioner (GP):

In France, in order to have access to specific care (except for gynaecology, ophthalmology, stomatology medicine and psychiatry for the under-25s) and to be reimbursed at a higher rate, you must have an attending practitioner. He/she is the first person you see to assess your health. He/she will ensure your medical follow-up. You can nominate your GP during your first consultation.

• Create your personal account

Activate your Ameli account at www.ameli.fr and fill in or update your personal details: postal address, bank details, attending practitioner.

• Remember to update your Carte Vitale regularly. This can be done in pharmacies on the terminals provided for this purpose.

TOP-UP HEALTH INSURANCE

The health insurance scheme reimburses 70% of your health expenses if you consult your GP. To be reimbursed 100%, you must take out a top-up health insurance (also called mutuelle) which will reimburse the remaining 30%. To find supplementary health insurance companies, you can search directly on the internet and use an online comparative tool to get the ideal rate depending on your needs (dental, optical, etc.).

During your stay

Public liability and housing insurance

Planning your departure

WHEN YOU ARRIVE IN FRANCE, YOU MUST TAKE OUT TWO TYPES OF INSURANCE:

- Public liability insurance (assurance responsabilité civile): guarantees the repair of damages that you may accidentally cause to others.
- Housing insurance (assurance habitation): enables you to be compensated by your insurance company in the event of a claim in your home

ADVICE

Insurers offer both types of coverage within the same package. Well ahead of your departure, you can find out about home insurance policies which include a public liability clause.

Banks and student top-up insurance companies all offer these services. The amount of coverage may vary depending on the contract - for example the number of people, the amount of deductibles, limits and exclusions. Do not hesitate to ask your institution to find out if you can benefit from policies at special rates.

Upon arrival

- To move into your new accommodation, you must provide the landlord with a certificate of housing insurance.
- In order to enroll at Université Paris-Saclay, public liability insurance will be required. You will not be able to complete your registration without it.

At the end of your stay

At the end of your research contract, you may terminate your housing insurance contract and therefore your public liability insurance.

In order to do this, you must send a registered letter with acknowledgement of receipt to your insurer to inform them of your decision.

In this letter, you should include the relevant information for your file to be processed, such as your surname, first name, address and contract number as well as the length of the notice period provided for in the contract you signed and the date on which you wish to terminate the current contract.

Click here for more information on the conditions for terminating home insurance.

Telephone and internet

You will need to have a telephone number in France for administrative tasks related to your installation in France (bank account, accommodation, etc.). We strongly recommend you initiate this process as soon as possible.

Upon arrival

MOBILE PHONE

You may take out a monthly subscription or purchase prepaid cards, which are more expensive in the long run but less restrictive when you arrive.

- Duration of your contract

Remember to choose an option adapted to the duration of your stay with or without a subscription. Packages without a commitment allow you to break the contract at any point. They are therefore suitable for internationals who come to France for a short period. Packages with a commitment usually last between 12 and 24 months. The contract provides a phone at an attractive rate.

- Cost

Standard offers generally range from €15 to €40 per month for the most comprehensive ones.

Most suppliers can provide alternative low-cost offers (from €3 to €12 per month) which are often sufficient for your needs.

- Roaming charges within the EU

Calls, SMS and MMS are not overtaxed within the European Union. This also applies to internet data up to a certain limit which is defined by your original operator.

- Internet

There are many telephone operators which offer a complete package including internet access, a fixed telephone line and access to TV channels.

The average rate is between €20 and €50 per month.

Setting up an ADSL or optical fibre connection in your accommodation can take an average of 8 to 21 day.

At the end of your stay

Remember to cancel your different subscriptions (internet, mobile phone, accommodation, bank account, transportation, etc.). Just one click on a website will be enough for some of these subscriptions. For others, a letter must be written and sent by registered mail with acknowledgement of receipt, possibly with supporting documentation (e.g. proof that you are moving abroad). Make sure you get the right information in advance to avoid additional costs.

Banking

Opening a bank account in France will make banking operations easier. For instance, salary payments and healthcare reimbursements are only paid into French bank accounts.

You can choose between several banks, either traditional or online banks.

Planning your departure

The most common banks in France are: la Société Générale, BNP Paribas, Crédit Agricole, Crédit Lyonnais, Caisse d'Épargne or a network of post offices if you opt for a bank account at the post office, La Banque Postale.

Before you leave, take a look at bank offers to compare them.

Upon arrival

OPENING A BANK ACCOUNT

You will need to provide valid identification and a proof of address.

Some banks might request:

- A copy of your handwritten signature
- An initial payment into the account
- Your current bank account details or the contract
- Your last payslip (if not, the contract with information on your salary)
- A certificate of attendance at a higher education institution to be eligible for student offers

Banks may have special offers for students. Contact several banks to compare options.

At the end of your stay

CLOSING YOUR ACCOUNT

At the end of your stay, you will have to close your bank account. All you have to do is send a registered letter with acknowledgement of receipt. To download a sample letter go to the public service website.

In this letter, you must say that you wish to close your bank account and include the following information:

- Your surname and name

Schooling and childcare

SCHOOLING IN FRANCE

The education system in France is organised in 4 main levels - nursery school, elementary school, secondary school ("collège & lycée") and higher education. The French school system includes three types of schools:

- Public / State institutions run by the government

Public/state schools are entirely free. The French education system has been based on the principle of secularism since the 19th century. Education is compulsory from the ages of 3 to 16.

For more information on the key principles of the French education system, click here.

PLEASE NOTE

The family's place of residence determines the public institution in which the student will attend school. It is possible to apply for a special dispensation under certain conditions. It is advisable to take these steps as early as possible.

- Public/State schools under contract and subject to government control

- Private non-contractual schools, subject to inspection by the government

Within the private schooling system, there are a variety of schools – for example, faith-based, bilingual, international, offering alternative teaching methods (Montessori or others).

To find out about all the educational institutions in your region, département or town, go to:

<https://www.education.gouv.fr/annuaire>

THE SCHOOL YEAR

The school year beginning in September and finishes at the end of June/start of July. A standard school week runs Monday through Friday from 8.30 am to 11.30 am and from 1.30 pm to 4.30 pm. In some schools, children may attend school on Wednesday mornings. Outside school hours, childcare facilities are provided: morning and evening care, canteens (for lunch) and supervised study (after classes in primary schools).

There are 5 periods of holiday in the year. Metropolitan France is divided into 3 zones - A, B and C - which group together the different educational regions. The calendar of the current school year will give you the precise breakdown of the holiday periods.

EDUCATION FOR NON-FRENCH SPEAKING CHILDREN

In order to provide the best possible welcome for children who do not speak French (known as 'allophones'), educational units for newcomer allophone pupils (UPE2A) have been set up. Through these units, pupils can be enrolled in a class corresponding to their age and level, while benefiting from additional teaching in French depending on their needs.

The child's level of proficiency in French is assessed upon arrival in order to organise a coaching programme.

Upon arrival

ENROLLING YOUR CHILD IN SCHOOL

To receive support regarding the enrollment of your child in school, you can contact the CASNAV in your département.

Look at the public service pages for more information about enrolling non-French speaking children in a nursery, primary or secondary school or at a college.

CHILDCARE OPTIONS

If your child is too young to go to school, there are different options for children aged 2 months to 3 years.

To find a childcare facility, contact your town hall or check the dedicated site of the Caisse d'Allocations Familiales.

- Community childcare: public crèche, the micro-crèche or the parental crèche

The cost of public crèches is calculated according to your income. Ask for information about fees when you register your child.

- Kindergartens

Kindergartens welcome children aged two to six. They are somewhere in between a crèche and a nursery school.

- A childminder or home-based childminder

Childminders have a professional qualification and look after children (a maximum of 4 children) in their own home or in 'childminder centres' (Maison d'assistantes maternelles - MAM).

For further information on home-based childcare and recruiting a professional, go to pajemploi.urssaf.fr

EXTRA-CURRICULAR AND LEISURE ACTIVITIES FOR CHILDREN

- The leisure centre: for children and teenagers

The leisure centre welcomes children during extracurricular periods (school holidays or a full day without school except at weekends) and school periods (morning or evening childcare before or after classes).

Specialist childcare staff offer leisure activities such as arts and crafts, indoor and outdoor games, cultural and sports activities, etc.

Contact your town hall to enrol your child at a leisure centre. A financial contribution will be requested. It is calculated according to the family income.

For further information on leisure centres, click here.

Taxes

Upon arrival

INCOME TAX

• Tax retention

Income tax in France is levied at source. This means that an amount of tax is deducted each month from your pay. In this way, the payment is spread over twelve months.

You can check and change your tax rate on the www.impots.gouv.fr website 'votre espace particulier' (your individual account).

You need a tax number to access the site. If you do not have one, you can request one by completing the CERFA N°2043-SD form.

Your tax rate is based on the data entered in your tax return: income, dependents, deductible expenses, expenses eligible for tax credit, etc.

Neutral rate: This is a non-personalised rate which does not take into account the employee's family situation or other income. If you have just arrived in France, the neutral rate is applied by default.

Personalised rate: this rate takes into account your personal and family situation as well as your total income. This rate is calculated each year by the tax authorities on the basis of your last tax return.

Exemptions: you will not pay income tax if your net taxable income is below the exemption thresholds. In 2022, the exemption threshold for a single person without children is €15,547 net taxable income.

• Annual income tax return

You must declare your income. This does not necessarily mean that you will have to pay tax.

In addition to tax retention, you must declare your income over the previous year, each spring. For example, between April and June 2024, you will declare your income for 2023. This declaration is used to adjust your tax retention rate.

The first declaration can be made online, as long as you have a French tax number. You can then complete it online the following years. The tax return form is CERFA n°2042. It can be downloaded from the impots.gouv.fr website.

You should report your annual net taxable income on the CERFA n°2042 form. You will find this information on your last payslip of the year.

For reference, the amount of tax for a single person without children is about 1 month's salary (unless exempted).

If there is an international agreement between your country and France, you may be exempt from tax. Remember to report this when you file your tax return: <https://www.impots.gouv.fr/portail/les-conventions-internationales>

The tax centre to which you report depends on where you live.

Find the address of your centre here, in particular for sending the forms in paper format.

• Further information:

• Contact the person in charge of welcoming international researchers for additional advice in your institution (please see the 'your contact persons' section).

• Tax Department of non-residents employees:

<https://www.impots.gouv.fr/portail/international>

• Contact the tax authorities:

<https://www.impots.gouv.fr/portail/contacts>

• The Science Accueil (Centre Euraxess) association can help you declare your income for you and your family: <https://www.science-accueil.org/>

RESIDENCE TAX

As of January 1 2023, residence tax will be abolished. No tenant or property owner will pay residence tax on their primary place of residence.

At the end of your stay

At the end of your stay, go to your 'espace particulier' on the www.impots.gouv.fr website and update it with your change of address.

You should remember to declare the income you received over your last year in France the year following your departure.

During your journey, you will find bureaux de change at airports and international stations.

- Pay the security deposit in advance (equivalent to one month's rent - this deposit will be returned to you upon departure if the accommodation is left in a good condition)
- Pay one to three months' rent in advance if you are renting private accommodation
- Pay for home insurance (compulsory)
- Pay estate agency fees, if applicable (about one month's rent)
