Chinese Scholarship Council (CSC) call for projects and applications in partnership with Université Paris-Saclay

Université Paris-Saclay (UPSaclay) and the Chinese Scholarship Council (CSC) have renewed in 2020 an agreement which provides for the funding by the Chinese government of 50 Chinese doctoral students per year, up to 1350 euros/month.

The conditions to submit your application to join Université Paris-Saclay are:

- Candidates must be citizens of the People's Republic of China;
- Chinese students studying for a Master's degree at Université Paris-Saclay and at universities abroad are also eligible;
- The candidates must meet the selection criteria:

set by the Doctoral Schools of Université Paris-Saclay

set by the CSC <http://apply.csc.edu.cn>

The selected students must be admitted by one of the doctoral schools of Université Paris-Saclay and register each year, paying the registration fees (tuition fees and CVEC).

The winning doctoral students will carry out their doctorate in one of the Doctoral Schools of the Université Paris-Saclay.

The different stages of the application process

Step 1: Collection of thesis topics

Posting of subjects on the ADUM platform by thesis directors:

Thesis directors upload topics in English on ADUM ⇒ the appropriate academic year 2024-2025 should be entered, and “Chinese Scholarship Council Programme (CSC)” should be chosen.

Afficher les propositions de projets doctoraux selon les critères suivants :

Ajouter une proposition de projet doctoral

From 30/06/2023 ⇒ The thesis directors submit the subject with a project description on PDF obligatorily of at least 20 lines on the ADUM portal at the latest 20/09/2023.

Thesis directors must indicate pre-existing partnerships with French or foreign institutions and indicate the GS (Graduate School) and the laboratory supervision (CentraleSupélec, CEA, IOGS, etc.).

The Research Units and/or the doctoral schools must validate the subjects submitted progressively and no later than 20/09/2023.

The FSD and the HFDS will examine the thesis subjects between July (the first subjects submitted) and the end of November (last subjects submitted in September).

NB: the thesis directors are invited to contact their Research Unit in order to be informed about the minimum funding requested by the Research Unit.

If the Research Unit requires an amount higher than the amount of this scholarship, the possibility of paying a supplement by your Research Unit should be studied.

Step 2: Thesis topics' publishing

01/12/2023: start of publication of all thesis topics that have received a favorable or reserved opinion from the FSD/HFDS.

A) HFDS validated topics for all laboratories:

There is no need for the thesis director to contact the FSD/HFDS.

B) HFDS validated topics for laboratories classified as “ZRR” or “protected”:

The thesis director is invited to contact his or her Research Unit, which will request authorization for access to candidates from the FSD to which the laboratory is attached.

The International PhD Axis of la Maison du doctorat should be informed of the outcome of this request as soon as possible.

C) Topics with a HFDS reservation:

1. For all laboratories combined

The International Axis of la Maison du doctorat will send the necessary documents to the UPSaclay FSD.

2. For laboratories attached to the IOGS (Institut d'optique Graduate School)

The thesis director is requested to send the necessary documents to the FSD of his/her Research Unit and to inform the International Axis of la Maison du doctorat of the progress of the application.

Step 3: Chinese students' applications

01/12/2023: date of opening of the portal for the submission of applications.

IMPORTANT: the thesis topics validated by the FSD/HFDS will be posted online as they become available.

Chinese applicants must submit the necessary documents for the processing of their applications by the doctoral school and, deposit the following documents:

- copy of valid passport
- first and last name in Chinese
- place and date of birth in English or French.
- CV with no break in date (any break must be justified)
- the name of their home institution or the name of the institution where their last diploma was awarded 21/01/2024: application deadline.

Step 4: FSD/HFDS review of subject/applicant pairing
Research Units (not classified as ZRR), must complete and forward to the international axis of la Maison du doctorat as soon as possible one form per student, if the initial opinion is reserved, as soon as possible and before the last of January.

In addition, for each student having applied for a reserved subject, intellectual property clauses must be signed for transmission to the international axis of Maison du doctorat.

Research Units (not classified ZRR) and which are attached to Centrale Supélec or the CEA, must complete and transmit to the international axis as soon as possible a form per student, if the opinion initially given is favorable or reserved, at most late at the end of January.

January to February (provisional): examination of applications (subjects/candidates) by the SDF/HFDS.

Mid-February to early March: FSD/HFDS opinions are processed and forwarded to the Doctoral Schools.

Step 5: Eligibility for a doctorate by the doctoral schools of Université Paris-Saclay

Two auditions will be scheduled by the doctoral schools so that candidates will be selected

- A. 05/02/2024: deadline for feedback from doctoral schools on applications submitted on subjects validated by the FSD
- B. 11/03/2024: deadline for the return of the doctoral school opinions for the applications submitted on reserved subjects.

Step 6: Applications's validation

Between 15/03/2024 and 25/03/2024: The International PhD Axis of Maison du doctorat will communicate the list of candidates who have been selected by Université Paris-Saclay and will transmit the certificates mentioning the admission of the candidate under the condition:

- Of obtaining funding from the CSC
- Of the completion of the registration at Université Paris-Saclay
- Of obtaining a favorable opinion from the FSD

Between 15/03/2024 and 31/03/2024: Application submission on the CSC website

Step 7: Selection by the CSC of successful applicants for funding

- May 2024: examination of the admissibility of the candidates by the CSC.
- 15/06/2024: Publication of the winners' results by the CSC.

- From 15/06/2024: The International PhD Axis of la Maison du doctorat will send the certificates to the candidates after the final selection of the candidates by the CSC in late May/early June.

Calendar summary
